

DEMOCRATS OBJECT TO BOARDS' REPORT ON WOOL SCHEDULE

DEMOCRATIC MEMBERS OF WAYS AND MEANS COMMITTEE DECIDEDLY OPPOSED TO REPUBLICAN TARIFF STAND.

THEORY IS UNTENABLE

Plan as Advocated by Tariff Board "Entirely Erroneous and Untrustworthy" Is Underwood's Verdict.

Washington, March 27.—That the tariff board in its report to Congress on the wool schedule proceeded upon an entirely erroneous theory and that its report was "untenable" is the conclusion of the Democratic members of the Ways and Means Committee of the House as set forth in a report prepared by Rep. Underwood, chairman of the committee, in connection with the re-introduction of the wool bill placing a 20 per cent ad valorem duty on raw wool.

This bill, which after slight revision in conference last summer, was vetoed by President Taft, who gave then as his principal reason for exercise of the veto power that the tariff board had made no report on the subject. Last December the board reported and the Democratic members of the Ways and Means Committee, after an analysis of this report, re-introduced the bill claiming that there was nothing in that report to justify such change.

Summarizing the conclusion of the committee, Chairman Underwood says: "A careful and painstaking analysis of the wool report of the Tariff Board discloses conclusions as follows: "The theory of applying tariff duties according to the difference in the cost of production in this and in foreign countries, upon which the board has projected and prepared its report, is entirely erroneous and untenable. Furthermore, if this theory could have been systematically and carefully applied, it would not have afforded trustworthy results for guidance in preparing tariff legislation.

"The board's report is fragmentary and incomplete, and rests on an incorrect statistical basis. Hence it has no claim to confidence for the results set forth therein, even should the reliability of the theory of the cost of production be conceded.

"Those persons who are willing to overlook the lack of theoretical soundness and of statistical accuracy, will find the data of the report too fragmentary and incomplete to admit of conclusions with reference to rates of tariff duty. Even under the most favorable interpretation of the report, conclusions as to duties can be reached for only a few paragraphs of the wool schedule, and for these paragraphs it is not possible to formulate definite conclusions, because the figures vary widely, and seriously lack uniformity and comparability. So much is this the case that justification is apparently afforded in the report for rates that are in conflict with one another. It is thus seen that the report leaves the question of the tariff duties on wool as much involved as before the Tariff Board was formed.

"So far as conclusions can be drawn from the board's report, it furnishes nothing to justify any change in the rates proposed in the present bill.

"In making the computations from which have resulted the rates as justified by the Tariff Board's data, the most expensive and difficult conditions indicated by the data as attending production have been employed with a view to being more than just in the conclusions. The difference in the cost of production beyond the rates mentioned by this bill exists in all raw materials, and these are in but low probability the result of high costs which have been presented by the board and used in the computations.

"In preparing this bill of last session and H. R. 22105 of this session (Continued on page 7.)

BRITISH COLUMBIA ELECTIONS TOMORROW

Conservative Government Expected To Retain Its Hold—Campaign Lacking In Spirit.

Vancouver, B. C., March 27.—The elections throughout British Columbia will tomorrow express their political preference and on their verdict depends the fate of the Conservative Government, which, under the leadership of Premier McBride, has been in office since November, 1909. The campaign has been fairly lacking in spirit, owing to the prevailing belief that the Liberal opposition has absolutely no chance of victory.

Railway extensions and a policy of exclusion of Orientals, which Premier McBride recently declared himself in favor, form the chief planks of the platform on which he expects to be returned to power. The single tax theory figures prominently in the Liberal platform. Among its planks are those declaring for the abolition of all poll tax, exemption of improvement on all land paying taxes to the government, raising of exemption of income to $2,000, woman's franchise, workmen's industrial insurance and complete prohibition of Orientals.

The Socialists, who have been steadily increasing their strength in many parts of the Province, hope to return several of their representatives to the legislature. In Vancouver, where the Socialists polled sixteen hundred votes in the last election, they have placed a complete ticket in the field.

COLONEL'S DEFEAT IN HIS OWN STATE IS MOST DECISIVE

Taft Will Have Eighty-Three Delegates to Roosevelt's Seven Out of New York Delegation.

New York, March 27.—Candidates to the republican national convention favoring the nomination of Theodore Roosevelt were defeated in every district where they opposed candidates designated by the regular organization, and carried by followers of President Taft. The Taft campaign manager stated today that the President carried at least eighty-three of the New York delegates who would go to Chicago favoring the re-nomination of President Taft. In the estimate is included the four delegates-at-large to be chosen at the state convention on April 9.

Seven to Roosevelt.

The remaining seven delegates were designated by the regular district organization, but conceded to Colonel Roosevelt.

Colonel Roosevelt lost the only two tight his supporters made in "Up State," and the returns from the fifteen contested districts in New York City and Long Island gave his opponents a plurality averaging more than two hundred and twenty-one.

Colonel Roosevelt's supporters are now expected to concentrate their attention on the state convention in an effort to prevent Taft men from sending an instructed delegation to Chicago.

Almost Solid.

It can be said from the most conservative angle that the results point to practically a solid Taft delegation from New York. "It is a long step from bribing a voter to the act of hiring a man to devote his time and energy to the canvass in behalf of his principles," asserted Senator Pomeren.

"It is a long step from the employment of a man to work at the polls and to bring in voters to bribing or purchasing a voter. It is a long step from the employment of canvassers to create sentiment in favor of a candidate, to an interference with the freedom of action. It is a long step from the giving of a social drink or a cigar to 'treating' to such an extent as to interfere with the liberty of election. The distance between the two classes of cases is measured by the distance between legal and illegal proceedings."

Washington, March 27.—As a result of yesterday's primaries in New York and state convention in Indiana, President Taft's headquarters today claim 242 delegates among those selected thus far. Director McChesney conceded but 24 to Col. Roosevelt.

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS. Colorado Springs, Colo., March 27.—A so-called "harmony program" for today's state republican convention was outlined at the close of an all night conference of Taft leaders. It provided for the instruction of Colorado delegates-at-large to the Chicago convention for President Taft and the adoption of resolutions endorsing the administration. In the first test vote on temporary chairman in the convention the vote stood, Taft forces, six hundred and fifty-six; Roosevelt, two hundred and forty-two.

FIRST CHAPTER OF STEPHENSON CASE ORDERED WRITTEN

Friends Prophecy Majority in Favor of Heyburn Resolution to Sustain the Senator's Legality.

Washington, March 27.—The final chapter in the case of Senator Isaac Stephenson, involving the retention of his seat in the senate was ordered to be written late today. Senator Stephenson's friends claim they will have a majority of four when the final struggle over the Heyburn resolution sustaining the legality of his election is reached. The opposition forces led by Senator L. E. Lea of Tennessee, believe the result will be very close, but makes no absolute prediction.

U. S. Senator Isaac Stephenson.

Senator Pomeren of Ohio, replied to arguments by Senators Briskett and Kenyon in favor of sustaining the Wisconsin senator. The Ohio senator called upon the senate to consider the cases as judges, and to be guided by "judge-made law."

"It is a long step from bribing a voter to the act of hiring a man to devote his time and energy to the canvass in behalf of his principles," asserted Senator Pomeren.

Washington, Wisc., March 27.—To realize the profit from their lands that they should, Judge state duty-men, according to Prof. George C. Humphrey, must breed better cows and then supply their herds with such feeds and give them such care as will induce economical milk production.

Even in Wisconsin, the leading dairy state in the union, he said, the average cow produces about one hundred and seventy-five pounds of butter per year, barely paying for the feed she consumes. Although there are many cows owned by Wisconsin dairymen which produce at the rate of three hundred and fifty pounds of butter per year, and returning neat profits to their owners, the proportion of such animals is not nearly as great as it should be, he said.

Will Stump the State for Woman Suffrage

Madison, Wisc., March 27.—If Senator La Follette keeps his word, and there is little reason to doubt it, he will take the stump in Wisconsin next fall in favor of woman suffrage. He says as much in the April installment of his autobiography.

Indignantly, his reference to his complete sympathy with equal suffrage and his account of his appointment of women to office while governor of Wisconsin, written freely in the magazine article named, are likely to win him votes in those western states where women possess the franchise privilege.

MINIMUM WAGE BILL WILL BECOME A LAW WITHIN DAY'S TIME

Government's Measure to End Strike in England Ready for Passage. Troops Ready to Go to Wales.

London, Eng., March 27.—The government minimum wage bill, whose object is to put a stop to the disastrous coal miners' strike, will be the law of the land within twenty-four hours. Thus far, however, the end of the strike and of the distress and suffering to a million miners and over two million other workers and their families and dependants throughout the country, is not in sight.

The miners' federation met today to discuss the general situation and to consider a proposal for submitting to the miners, and the question as to whether the minimum wage bill should be accepted.

The mine owners also conferred, but their decision has not been made public.

The cabinet hopes the miners will waive the excuse afforded by the enactment of the minimum wage bill for returning to work.

It is also likely that the government will establish a national wage board with an independent chairman to consider and determine on proposals for the introduction of the minimum daily rate of $1.25 for men and fifty cents for boys, on the understanding that with the light settled, all miners will return to work while negotiations are pending for fixing the minimum rate for other grades of workmen.

Troops Are Ready.

Already troops are in state of readiness in Wales, and at any moment their services may be required to protect the mines at the Brynmawr colliery, which has been working for several days and an attempt was made to interfere with the work last night. Early this morning the miners connected with collieries of the surrounding districts began to march in a body toward Brynmawr and they were quickly followed by a force of police reserves.

Trouble is also feared in Scotland where many men have already returned to the pits and others are anxious to follow their example.

V. Harbison, leader of the Welsh miners, says that the strike has only just begun and that the miners are not going back to work until they have won.

Owners Accept.

The British coal owners, after a prolonged meeting this afternoon, resolved to accept the minimum wage bill. This means that all the mines will be opened to the men as soon as they desire to return to work.

The Turkish commander says the casualties among Turkish and Arab troops number only 150 killed and wounded.

PACKERS PLANNING ON DISSOLUTION OF NATIONAL COMPANY?

Reported in Chicago Today That National Packing Company Will Now be Voluntarily Dissolved.

Chicago, March 27.—Whether the National Packing company, the fifteen million dollar corporation on which the government found the basis of illegal conspiracy alleged against the ten leading Chicago packers, will now voluntarily dissolve, today is a much discussed question.

According to one report the parties and their attorneys, as soon as they have rested from the stretch of the trial will make up the terms of dissolution.

Generosity in the corporation is viewed in the interest of Swift, Morris and Armour in the ratio of forty-seventy, forty and thirteen per cent and it is now proposed to have each plant of the company taken over in trust by one of the joint owners.

One of the first results of the prosecution of the parties has been the withdrawal of all defendants from directorship in the National Packing company, except the president, Edward Tilden.

CANADIANS OPPOSE CHICAGO PROPOSAL

Representatives of Dominion Appear Before Secretary Stimson To File Protests.

Washington, D. C., March 27.—The Dominion of Canada, as represented by delegates from the Provincial Governments of Ontario and Quebec and the commercial, manufacturing and marine organizations of many of the chief cities, appeared in battle array before Secretary of War Stimson today to oppose the plan to increase the flow of water through the Chicago Drainage Canal. The official and commercial delegates were reinforced by eminent Canadian counsel.

At the outset of the hearing it became apparent that Canada intends to make a vigorous fight for what she considers her rights. The trouble is all over an application of the drainage Commission of the district of Chicago for an increase in the amount of water that shall be allowed to take from Lake Michigan for drainage purposes. At present the amount is 4,000 cubic feet per second. They want this increased to 10,000 cubic feet and the reason alleged is for the purpose of increasing the drainage system. In behalf of the proposal it is stated that the project affects no less than 2,500,000 people included in the drainage district and that it is absolutely necessary to their health and safety to increase the drainage flow, at least until some other satisfactory means is found for disposing of the sewage.

The Canadian objections, which are shared by Michigan and other states bordering on the Great Lakes, are based on the belief that the lowering of the lake levels would seriously affect the shipping interests and sanitation of many cities.

The treaty between the United States and Canada permits the water of the lakes to be used for drainage systems, but it is alleged that although the application is being made under this guise, Chicago's real purpose is to get enough water for power development.

WEST INDIAN RECIPROCITY WITH CANADA POSSIBLE

Conference Held at Ottawa Today May Result in Action Being Taken—United States Affected.

Ottawa, Ont., March 27.—Important and far-reaching results, affecting the commercial and manufacturing interests not only of Canada but of the United States as well, are expected to follow the conference begun here today between representatives of the Canadian and West Indian governments, looking toward free commercial intercourse between Canada and the British West Indies. It is the belief here that a small preference given to the West Indies by Canada over the United States would result in a few years in diverting to this country a large part of the American export trade with the islands.

The West Indian colonies represented in the conference are British Guiana and the islands of Trinidad, St. Kitts, Dominica, Barbados, St. Lucia, St. Vincent, Antigua and Montserrat. Jamaica, the largest and most important of the British possessions in the West Indies, declined to participate in the negotiations owing, it is said to fear of impairing her extensive commercial relations with the United States.

ROCK ISLAND QUIET FOLLOWING SERIOUS RIOTS LAST NIGHT

Militia And Authorities Expect Another Attack Tonight, However, and Are Making Preparations.

Rock Island, March 27.—Despite quiet in all quarters of the city this morning, militia, police and militia are prepared to resist a resumption tonight of the rioting which resulted in three deaths and the wounding of nine persons last night. Sheriff C. L. Brunner said: "Although everything looks peaceful now, there is an undercurrent of vicious feeling against the police and I expect an attack on the militia tonight. My deputies report that a number of desperate characters in Davenport and Moline and Rock Island are today carrying around the word that they will 'run the militia into the Mississippi river tonight.'"

Last night's rioting continued practically unchecked for three hours. The police said there were more than five thousand persons in the mob which surged through the downtown streets pulling trolley car wires down, overturning wagons and in other ways seeking to block the public thoroughfares.

After the attack on the police station had been repulsed by the volleys from the weapons of the officers, the dead and wounded men were found. Two of the killed were identified early today as J. C. Kelly, a blacksmith of Illinois, a village a few miles up the river, and T. H. Orman, a shoe merchant of this city. Kelly is said to have been one of the men who came to Rock Island from the neighboring towns bent on mischief.

It is said that even the riotous condition here may be more than five thousand persons in the mob which surged through the downtown streets pulling trolley car wires down, overturning wagons and in other ways seeking to block the public thoroughfares.

Starts Scare.

What was thought to be an unsuccessful attempt to assassinate Mayor Schriver, at the city hall was made this morning by an unidentified person, who fired a rifle bullet through the mayor's office window from the top of a building several squares distant.

The bullet missed Mayor Schriver, who was standing in front of the window and buried itself in the wall of the office. Militia men and deputy sheriffs at once started search for the person who fired the shot.

Was Accidental.

Later Sheriff Brunner after an investigation declared the shot had been accidentally fired by a deputy sheriff who was loading a riot gun. A local paper, however, in a special edition, stated that an attempt had been made on the life of the mayor.

Whole Regiment.

Springfield, Ill., March 27.—Governor Deneen today ordered the entire sixth regiment of the Illinois National guards to proceed to Rock Island to assist in preserving order there. HEALTH CERTIFICATE BEFORE WEDDING.

Chicago, Ill.—After Easter Sunday, no marriage ceremony will be performed in the Cathedral of St. Peter & Paul unless a certificate of health accompanies the marriage license. This ultimatum was issued by Dean Sumner in a strong sermon delivered here yesterday, and in this step he is backed by Bishop C. P. Anderson and other members of the clergy. For years, physicians and scientists have been trying to inaugurate through legislation a law providing against marriages where both parties are not able to furnish satisfactory health certificates. COMMUNICATIONS ON VARIOUS SUBJECTS

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE HEARD THROUGH COLUMNS OF GAZETTE.

POLITICS DISCUSSED

Eulogies in Behalf of Two Candidates Sent in For Publication—Talk on Sunday Opening.

In throwing the columns of the Gazette open to communications relative to city affairs the people have an opportunity of expressing their views. Oftentimes these same views do not conform with the editorial policy of the paper and may be freely commented on in connection with the article when published or editorially.

Unquestioned communications will not receive any attention, but the name of the writer will be withheld if desired. Today the subject of the communications published below are on city politics, and the question of the Sunday opening of theatres and amusement parks.

In this connection the Gazette would be pleased to hear views expressed on the question of a public system of amusement parks throughout the city supported by the city or by popular subscription. This is an important matter and should be thoroughly discussed.

Candidate Hall.

To the Editor of the Gazette: Will you give place in your columns to a few words of praise relative to the work of William Hall, one of the candidates for councilman at the coming election. Personally I have known Mr. Hall for many years and know of him before he moved to Janesville. Men who have worked with him in other cities speak only in the highest praise of him as a man, a friend and a citizen.

Enemies of Mr. Hall have attempted to malign him. Enemies of Mr. Hall whom he made by good honest endeavor to give the city the best possible administration have started numerous tales which they hope will work to his discredit during the last days of the present campaign. Mr. Hall has proven during his two years as alderman to be an honest, capable and thorough city official. He has given his time to the city since his election two years ago and his time has been worth thousands of dollars to the city.

Backed by his experience of twenty-four years as foreman in the shops of the Illinois Central and Wisconsin Central Railroads at Ambloy, Illinois and Fond du Lac, Wisconsin, he is an expert in administrative qualities. Because he has not been allowed to the voters at the January election, he has not lost sight in the open but now seeks to detract from his excellent service to the city.

Mr. Hall is a modest man. His labors in behalf of the taxpayers of the city stand as his record. He has not sought the grandstand method of attracting attention. He has not argued in a loud voice in the council, for or against certain measures but has contented himself with doing his work and manner which best suited the purpose of the case, worthy of endorsement by all citizens who are interested in saving the almighty dollar.

Mr. Hall is thoroughly conversant with the stone crusher question. It was his work alone that saved the city eight hundred dollars on the South Main street pavement. Refusing to sign the pay roll until the contractors made good their contract and laid the roadway according to specifications. The money is still owing and the road will be completed before they are paid. Mr. Hall has stood for the best interests of Janesville during his entire term of office. He has stood for what he considered just and right for the taxpayers and the city as a whole. He has been broader than the mere ward lines that limited his political ball-tossing and because of this he has made enemies.

One of the campaign lies they are relating is that he signed the call for the vote on license or no license a year ago. Because the name William Hall appeared on the petition he was connected with it. It was not Alderman Hall and it is merely an excuse of his detractors to take from him what support he might gain by his known liberality and general fair mindedness on public matters.

His record in this matter stands for itself. Mr. Hall is a man. He is not a puppet and cannot be swayed by any influence. He has not made any campaign pledges. He is free from any entanglements that might otherwise hinder his usefulness as a city official. FAIR PLAY.

Voice of The People.

Janesville, Wis., March 27, 1912.

Editor Gazette:

It seems to me that the question of opening the theatres on Sunday has caused a lot of unnecessary agitation, especially by the "high brow" who want to leave the ordinance as it is. What is the reason of all this? A number of people are trying to make it appear that the council is going to open a certain number of hours on Sunday. They think our aldermen don't know anything. Just to make it plain I will tell those people what they intend to do. There has been an ordinance in force for a number of years which forbids certain amusements, such as theatres, baseball, and I think that includes picnic grounds on Sunday. The aldermen intend to amend the ordinance so that the city will not be an obstructionist in the way of these pleasures, and that is as it should be. It is time to wake up citizens. If we are ever going to have a city of any size, I have been "dead" for a long time, and I am glad to see that we are about to have a change. In spite of the few "high brow" who want to get along in the same old, old way. I say give us the theatres and baseball. Let the city buy a park to be open all the time, where the people can congregate. We can have music and have games of different kinds. I am sure the best of fellowship will prevail. This theatre, baseball and park proposition must be viewed from more ways than one. It is not only the pleasure it will give the thousands, but it will help give our city. It will give our city a fair name and not a black eye. It will bring people here from all the surrounding towns and villages. They will say that Janesville is a wide awake, progressive city instead of the dead one as they call it now. The trouble with Janesville in the past has been that the minority have been running things to suit themselves. By the minority I don't mean the "common people" but a few we call "high brow." One of these people signing his name as "Budge" to a communication in the paper a few days ago, speaking of the workmen leaving the city, said: "Well have any of them shown any especially brilliant talent by which the city gaining them for citizens have been benefited? Can it be shown where Janesville has been the loser to any great extent by their removal?" Now then, are not the mechanics worth more consideration than this? Is that the proper way to treat them? If you don't like the way they don't you get out, is that the way? Have not the workmen as much right in Janesville as "Budge"? Or is he a special favorite? Have not the majority of people anything to say? Shall do this and that; you shall not go to a theatre or a baseball game on Sunday? It is a funny thing, nevertheless it is true, that the least harmful propositions are always knocked in the head by a lot of "knockers." Why do they not knock the more evil propositions, the ones that should be? I think the best way would be to let the majority rule. Let them have the theatres and baseball and picnic grounds, the minority let them do as they see fit. Let everybody attend to their own business, so long as everybody is orderly and not degrading. In place of "knocking" fill in with the word "boosting." Same number of letters and takes no more space.

COMMON PEOPLE.

An Offering.
Two days ago I learned of the nomination of Mr. Jas. Fathers for Mayor of the city of Janesville, and hasten to write this communication to throw light upon his qualifications for that responsible and honorable position. I am not a citizen of Janesville and write on a matter of local concern because I have had a better opportunity to know this man thoroughly than most citizens of your own city and wish to tell you the whole truth from the view point of one entirely disinterested in the outcome other than an earnest desire that the right man win.

I spent nearly a month in the office of the city treasurer last summer as a special agent of the state. It was my duty to make a complete analysis of all city transactions for one year. I worked through the entire records of Mr. Jas. Fathers very carefully, checked up cash, went into the books, looked to see if funds had been overdrawn without authority, checked up school receipts and payments and gave attention to his general methods of doing business. I also questioned him frequently as to many matters of general policy in the administration of city affairs.

To speak the plain truth I was unable to find a single error in the entire year's work. Everything was carefully and correctly done. The bond books had been taken care of in excellent shape and in no instance had funds been overdrawn. The law as it affected the city was followed to the letter as far as I was able to discover. For efficiency, plain honesty, good judgment and general familiarity with city affairs Mr. Jas. Fathers clearly surpasses any city official I have yet met in Janesville or elsewhere. It strikes me that Janesville is unusually fortunate in having such a man to direct the city government. He will make important improvements without any doubt. I have talked with him about these matters. As evidence of the thoroughness with which Mr. Jas. Fathers carries out the duties of his present office I wish to cite a single illustration. I found that laborious detailed reports of every cash transaction of the city were being submitted to the council every month. Each of these reports was from twenty to forty pages in length. A mere statement of balances in the funds would have served the purpose as well. I inquired why so much care and work was put upon these reports and was referred to an old provision in the charter requiring a report to the council. In order to be sure to be within the law he did more than was necessary. This, citizens of Janesville, is the type of man you have nominated for mayor. Elect him and you will have an executive in whom you can with safety confide and of whom you will be justly proud.

PICTURES AT MYERS

House Packed Last Night and This Afternoon for Exceptional Program.

Lyman H. Howe's wonderful program of motion pictures drew a packed house at the Myers theatre last evening and very soon was filled for the program this afternoon. Never before has there been offered such a rare collection of films at a single performance and the spectators were held intensely interested throughout the evening. The scenes in the Alps, "The roof of the world" and the review of the U. S. navy are especially fine. Practically every seat in the house was sold out at three o'clock this afternoon for the entertainment tonight.

Heart to Heart Talks.

By EDWIN A. NYE.

THE BLUES.

You have the "blues." The chances are you have no good reason for your bluish feeling. It may be caused by a bad liver or an insurmountable stomach. Or it may be your "temperament." Or there may be some adequate reason.

But—These things aside, your case is curable.

The cause of your trouble is inside of you—in your thinking. You think the world is all wrong, but you are somewhat like the drunken man who thinks every one is intoxicated. The world is not wrong. You are wrong. Now for the cure: I put the prescription in two words and will write it, not in Latin, as the doctors do, but in English. It is this: Do something! It is not important what you do, but it is important that you quit your brooding over fancied troubles and do something that will change your point of view.

Your mind has been hypnotizing itself. The will power has been broken down, and some of your faculties are running without a governor. You have permitted your mind to delude itself.

Do something! Get your mind in shape to overcome its inertia. Do something, if it is only to clean your teeth or brush your clothes or carry in coal.

Change the current of your thought. Give your will power a chance to assert and right itself. Look at your troubles from a different point of view. Smile at you can.

Smile at yourself and the worst is over. You will begin to see the silver lining of the clouds. On the other hand, if you continue to nurse your blue feeling it will grow into a growth. You will not only make yourself more miserable, but cause discomfort to every one about you.

Do something. Get out of the rut. Conditions are largely what we think them to be. If you think blue thoughts you will have blue feelings.

You can make your thoughts to suit you. If blue thoughts are not to your taste change them to suit.

The best way to change your thoughts is to do something.

Not Impressed.

"Look at me!" exclaimed the leading lawyer warmly. "I never took a drop of medicine in my life, and I'm as strong as any two of your patients put together."

"Well, that's nothing," retorted the physician. "I never went to law in my life, and I'm as rich as any two dozen of your clients put together."—Buffalo Commercial.

LARGE CROWD SEES
DE MUNN DEFEATED

Morehead of Milwaukee Makes Easy Work of Belvidere Lad—
Harrison Defeats Regan—
Troubles and Blaney
In Fast Bout.

Kid De Munn, Belvidere's favorite who did such clever work in his match with Hallow Burke here several weeks ago, was easily defeated by Billy Morehead of Milwaukee, in the final bout of the boxing card held at the west side rink last night.

There was a large crowd on hand for the event which had been arranged by Matchmaker Hockett of the Janesville Athletic Club. Belvidere sent nearly two hundred fans to root for their representative, and there were good delegations from Milwaukee, Deloit and Rockford.

Morehead demonstrated his supremacy over Kid De Munn in a decisive manner at the very start. His experience in the boxing game gave him a coolness and generalship which was too much for his opponent. His punches were well-timed and every one counted. De Munn's defense was battered down with little trouble, but the Belvidere lad took his punishment in good shape, although he went down for the count twice in the first round. He had weakened perceptibly in the second and offered no effective defense. He went down for the count several times in the second round before he was finally counted out. It was the first decisive defeat which the Belvidere favorite has received in his boxing career and it was a sore blow to the supporters from his home city.

Phil Harrison of Chicago made quick work of Jack Regan of Milwaukee, in the second preliminary. Regan failed to offer any effective defense and was counted out before the end of the first round.

Kid Troubles and Duke Blaney mixed it well in the first preliminary and gave the spectators a fine exhibition of the boxing game. Neither had the advantage in any of the rounds up to the sixth when Troubles put his opponent down for the count of ten with a quick blow to the head which came like a flash. The thing was entirely unexpected as the fans had looked for a full eight round event ending in perhaps a draw.

In an opening bout Kid McDuff and Kid Speed, two local boys, did some clever work. The event ended in the fourth round with the advantage on the side of McDuff who had effectively battered down his opponent's defense. Jack Dougherty of Madison refereed the matches to the satisfaction of the fans. Between the preliminaries and the final event he introduced a number of managers and boxers who were here for the card. Among these was the manager of Ernie Sanders who issued a challenge to the winner of the De Munn-Morehead go to be held here or anywhere agreed upon.

REPUBLICAN TICKET.

Taft Delegates Stated at Large—

W. D. Howard, Port Arthur, Wis.

James O. Davidson, Madison, Wis.

Emmanuel Phillips, Milwaukee, Wis.

George A. Hunsall, Superior, Wis.

From First Congressional District—

A. C. Matheson, Janesville, Wis.

A. C. Elliott, Racine, Wis.

The above is the list of the Taft delegates at large and of the first congressional district to be voted on at the election on Tuesday next. The delegates named who favor La Follette are all listed as such and this has caused considerable adverse discussion as to the law and method used in thus handling the question. The question is not debatable when the secretary of state decides he was legally right. However, E. L. Phillips of Milwaukee, chairman of the Taft movement in the state does not agree with and puts his opposition to Frear's rulings and the endorsement given the plan by Governor McGovern in the following interview:

"Viewing the matter from the standpoint of President Taft's interest I have no fault to find with Secretary Frear's arrangement of the ballot," said E. L. Phillips, manager of the Taft campaign in Wisconsin, in reference to the labeling of La Follette's delegates on the official ballot.

"I know it is a good thing for us and I cannot see where Mr. La Follette is going to gain by it. However, the law in the case is quite another matter."

"In his interview, Gov. McGovern asserts that the election of these delegates will be held under the provision of Section 30 of the statutes. Let us see what Section 30 is. It is a provision for the nomination of candidates by nomination papers, instead of under the primary election."

"This law has been in existence for nearly a quarter of a century, was preserved in the primary act of 1903 and at the last session was re-enacted as Chapter 613 of the laws of 1911. Its purpose is so clearly to provide a method for nominating independent or nonpartisan candidates that it needs no further consideration in connection with the methods governing the placing of candidates under the primary election laws."

"The law providing for the election of delegates to national conventions was passed in 1905, and designated this Section 30 as prescribing the methods to be followed in electing party as well as non-party delegates. This law contains the provision that the nomination papers which are filed with the secretary of state, not the ballot—except at the head of the column—may contain a statement by each candidate of the party or principle he represents, if any, expressed in not more than 500 words."

"It is to be noted that this statement applies to the nomination papers and in no way relates to the official ballot. I assume that this provision means that the declarations of the candidates may serve as a guide to the secretary of state and the county clerks, in making up the ballots, to ascertain in which party column on the ballot the name of the candidate must go. If the candidate professes to be a democrat or a republican, as disclosed in the statements made in the nomination papers, the name must go in the ballot allotted to the party."

"If the candidate claims to be an insurgent republican, the name must go into a column which is established for candidates who claim to adhere to whatever political principles are to be embodied in those words."

"Suppose the La Follette delegates whose names are to appear upon the official ballot had expressed their party or political principles in the word 'insurgent' republicans or 'woman suffrage republicans' would the secretary of state have the legal right to place them in the column on the ballot designated merely as 'republicans'?"

"Every form of ballot to be found in the election laws is in denial of the claim that this can be done and it is repugnant to the very idea of the much lauded primary. Candidates are supposed to be on an equality before the people."

LOCAL POLITICS.

It was hoped that when the commission form of government was adopted by the city of Janesville the old antagonism of certain interests was at an end. That they would be content to turn to and help elect the best men possible without going to the extremes of trying to force their own personal representatives onto the people. At the primaries a week ago two men were nominated for mayor, four for the office of councilmen. These men received the majority of the votes cast and their names go on the city ticket to be voted on next Tuesday. While some of the defeated candidates were known candidates of certain interests in city life they failed at nomination. Now that the race has narrowed down to the six men named the Gazette believes that the will of the people was to be at last expressed and that the voters would need no guidance in selecting the best men for the offices. It has come to the general attention that during the past few days numerous lying statements have been circulated relative to several of the candidates to the disparagement of their candidacy in the hopes of defeating them. That certain interests are most diligent in supporting other candidates in the hopes perhaps of having friends at "court" in time of need. Every man has his right to express his own opinion but when certain elements combine together to support one particular candidate it looks peculiar to say the least and to the man up a tree there is a "nigger in the wood pile" somewhere. The Gazette has no axe to grind, no chosen candidate to push forward or any doctrine, except good government for the people and obedience of the laws and ordinances. It believes Janesville can succeed as a town free from disturbing elements much better than it can when these elements control. When personal interests are paramount and public good and welfare are lost sight of, Janesville has suffered from the rascalsment which would never have been a possibility if the assessment returns had been properly given in many cases and its effect is not yet forgotten or will it be for some years to come. The four men selected for the office of councilmen, two to be elected, will have the controlling votes in the city government. They should be selected with care. Men fitted for the office they seek should be elected and then given the hearty endorsement and co-operation of all classes of citizens. Favors should not be asked or granted for special rights not enjoyed by all and under the new form of government the picking out of the persons responsible will be much easier than in the old days of council regime. There are still several days left in the present campaign and the Gazette may find occasion before the vote is taken to discuss the relative merits of the candidates in a manner which may not be most flattering if the present campaign of intrigue and "interests" dictation continues. The citizens of Janesville deserve the best government they can obtain. They are paying for it and the men selected should remember they are public servants and not personal representatives of any "interests."

COMMUNICATIONS.

In another column of the Gazette will be found several communications on matters of public interest. The columns of the Gazette are open to a free discussion of subjects that are of interest to the general public and while the paper reserves the right to comment on them they will be received when signed and given due consideration.

NEW YORK STATE.

Did Colonel Roosevelt hear from the New York primaries of Tuesday? It was even a worse blow than the North Dakota fiasco of a week ago. Indiana took a decided rap at the aspirations of the Sage of Sparta more than a week ago.

The United States Senate yesterday voted to retain Isaac Stephenson in his seat in the Senate despite the efforts of the radical leaders who would discredit him. The second vote today will settle the matter for good and all.

Perhaps spring is here but certainly the weather man has not yet been informed of the subject.

Remember that if you do not vote next Tuesday you can not complain if the best men are not selected.

A good spring tonic is coming. Housecleaning time. It is also the period of spring fever.

ON THE SPUR OF THE MOMENT

By Roy K. Moulton.

THE PESSIMIST.

I don't care who's elected;

It suits me as well as you,

I ain't no politician,

That's very plain to see,

Let others do the howling

And carry on the war,

There's really nothing in it

That is worth fighting for,

No matter who's elected

I'll be the same old game—

Force me it means no less

I must work, just the same.

ACCORDING TO UNCLE ABNER.

After an hour or so he prepared to depart and John hospitably inclined,

asked:

"Well, Mollie, me lad, would ye have a little something before ye go?"

"No, Many thanks to ye, John,

but I never take anything of late years."

"Well, then, have a cigar, Mollie."

"Oh, well, all right. Give me one of them 'Pride of the West' brand."

John handed out the box and, placing his hand to his mouth, and looking around cautiously to see that nobody was listening, whispered complimentarily: "Take two of them,

Mollie. They're not very good."

THE WORK CURSE.

Old Hiram Hinks never had much wealth.

Or much of a chance to enjoy poor health.

He couldn't afford to be downright sick.

Or he could have starved and that right quick.

He never dared say that he was ill.

For he never would pay a doctor bill.

So whenever life took a somber hue

And Hiram was ailed, sick and blue,

He gathered himself with a sudden jerk

And took a large dose of good, hard

When he got a cold he put it good.

He went and split up four cords of wood.

When he had the misery in his back

(He looked for a job as a lumberjack.

He didn't set round and whine and pout,

But went right to work and bent it out.

When other sick folks was a-droppin'

off

You should just of heered the old man scold.

When the last one's gone, it's a good safe bet

That old Hiram Hinks will be workin'

yet.

A FALSE ALARM.

The robin sat on a barren limb

And he warbled a doleful lay,

For his voice was hoarse and it worried him.

In a most mysterious way,

He shook and shivered all day long:

There was no music in his song.

He said, "I guess I've got in wrong

For it's too cold to be gay."

A man with a thin gaze upon his sneer

Mount to do our hero harm,

For he threw a brick and a club to boot.

And called him a false alarm,

And a madd who passed with a new spring hat.

In a tone sarcastic told him flat

He'd lost all his old time charm.

A man who had just bought anthra-

cine

Scowled hard at the robin's tune.

And said, "You'd better fly your kite

And reserve that song till June.

Then an idea seemed to percolate

And the little bird said, "Sure as fate"

I had feared that I might arrive too late.

But I guess I'm here too soon.

ANOTHER HORSE STORY.

A woman can't keep a secret. Oh, no, indeed. Far be it from such—but a man can.

There were two shrewd Yankee neighbors who spent a great deal of time swapping horses. One day one of them sold a horse to the other and on the following day the purchaser

A patient recently showed me two small gold crowns for which a neighboring dentist had charged him $26.00. I put on scores of exactly the same crowns for $5.00 each, and have been doing so for ten years. I often see them doing splendid service yet.

Every cent you pay over $5.00 is purely velvet for the dentist, no matter how much he gives you.

DEAD BODY OF MAN TAKEN FROM RIVER HERE THIS MORNING

Found at End of Bridge Near Blodgett Mill—identified as That of Curtis Talpin of Mt. Vernon.

The dead body of a man about twenty-three years old was found in the eddy at the west end of the railway bridge over the Rock river near the Blodgett mill at about 7:30 o'clock this morning by Jack Hagarty. He at once told watchman Freeman who notified the police of the find by telephone from the west side fire station. Officers Peter Chapman and Patrick Fanning responded and after recovering the body from the river removed it to the Kimball morgue and made an examination. It was in bad condition and had evidently been in the river a long time. The outlines of the face were almost obliterated by a coat of mud and slime.

The name of the drowned man, Curtis Talpin, was found on two pieces of paper in his pockets; one a prescription written by Dr. N. C. Evans of Mt. Vernon on the drug store operated by him, and the other the receipt of a sale of merchandise dated December 29, from Koch Brothers of Mt. Vernon, an inland village seven miles south of Mt. Vernon.

Chief of Police Appleby telephoned Dr. Evans for information about the dead man. He replied that though he remembered the name and writing the prescription, the man did not live in Mt. Vernon. Koch Brothers were then telephoned and through them the relatives of Talpin were reached as they lived in that vicinity. Through them it was learned that the missing man had not been seen or heard from since December 29. He had left home then to work in Stoughton. They promised to come to Janesville for the body either tonight or tomorrow morning.

It is impossible to tell when or where the man named Talpin met his death. Circumstances would indicate that he was drowned soon after he left home. One of his thickness did not form in the river until some time after the first of the year and Talpin may have fallen from one of the railway bridges here at night. There is nothing about the appearance of the remains to suggest foul play.

The drowned man is of large size and has reddish brown hair. He wore light overalls and mittens, and his overcoat was buttoned tightly around his neck. Three aluminum checks worth five cents each, cashable at the saloon of one Adolph Brelson were found in one pocket.

DAVERKOSEN CASE IS BEFORE GRAND JURY IN MADISON TODAY

Government is Evidently Going to the Bottom of the Proposition and Promises Sensations.

According to the following dispatch received from the Associated Press dated Madison today, the postal authorities are going most thoroughly into the Daverkosen case. The hearing in Janesville is scheduled for tomorrow morning and it is rumored there may be sensational developments as a result of today's investigations. The following is the Madison dispatch:

Madison, Wis., March 27.—The Federal Building here was overrun today with women and not a few men who waited to give their testimony before the grand jury against Harry Daverkosen, Janesville, who is alleged to have offered advice on love and marriage for value received. One witness, a man, lives in an Ohio town 550 miles from here. Ben Chiles, Superior, Ind. du Lac, Oshkosh and other Wisconsin cities had generous delegation of men and women who "felt" for Daverkosen's alleged fraudulent practices.

Names of his victims were scrupulously guarded against publicity. It was expected this morning Daverkosen's case would be finished by noon. The case of Joseph Knuth, Beloit, will follow.

Town of Janesville: Republican voters of the town of Janesville are hereby notified that there will be a caucus at the town hall Friday afternoon, March 29, at 2:30.

THINK FISCHER HAS FLED TO NEW YORK

Police Learn That Man Wanted to Answer For Forgeries Went to Chicago Saturday Night.

William Fischer, the man wanted here to answer to the charge of stealing cigars from and forging checks on J. Stern is thought by the police to have escaped to his old home in New York. It has been learned that Fischer went to Chicago Saturday night on the Chicago & Northwestern train leaving here at eight o'clock. Conductor P. J. Dullin met him on the train and conversed with him for some time. Fischer told him that he was going into Chicago to buy tobacco for his employer, Mr. Stern. He had some cigars with him and offered Mr. Dullin a smoke. Mr. Dullin did not find out until after he read the Janesville papers that his passenger was engaged in making an escape.

Chief of Police Appleby has mailed cigars giving a description of Fischer to the Chief of Police, Chief Detective and Sheriff of New York, Michael Mealey, Superintendent of Police at Minneapolis, V. McKinnon and C. H. Traylor, chiefs of police at Superior and Duluth have acknowledged the receipt of description cards and information being made according to his request.

No intentional provision was made for protection, the endeavor being to reduce and adjust rates with a view to producing the largest amount of revenue consistent with the proper consideration of the consumer. It is believed that the rates of this bill approach very closely, at least, to the revenue producing points, and that, should it be enacted into law, permit such quantities of imports as will effectively regulate domestic prices. Such competition would be an important service to the people, as it would encourage increased consumption and production by making more nearly normal the conditions of supply and demand. The report of the Tariff Board, so far as it admits of conclusions, shows that the rates which meet the consumer's needs also sufficiently satisfy those of the producer.

After reviewing the Democratic attempt of last year to secure revision of the wool schedule and the President's veto, the committee quoted the report on the original wool bill to the effect that "it would be trifling with the people to give further consideration to Republican counsel of more delay in this matter."

"Notwithstanding this conviction," the report continues, "the Democratic majority of the House of Representatives, impatient to respond to the demands of the people for the speedy revision of a schedule of indefensible rates, was forced to delay further effort to respond to the protests of the American people."

"The message of the President submitting the report to the Tariff Board and his recommendations that the board's findings be used as a basis for a reduction of rates, is then quoted, and the committee comments:

"The committee has made a careful analysis of the report of the Tariff Board in order to interpret the findings and to discover in what particular the committee's bill of the last session was defective, or failed to adjust the duties in an equitable and proper manner. This analysis has failed to reveal anything that requires a single change in the rates fixed in the committee's bill, and the committee is constrained to present again the results of its investigations of last summer, as embodied in the bill presented to the House at that time."

"As shown in the analysis, the data of the report of the Tariff Board have been found to be diffuse and unsystematic, to present inconsistent findings and, as stated, to afford the committee no valid reason for any change in its recommendations of last session with regard to the rates of Schedule K."

"The report of the committee further states that the Tariff Board's report largely consisted of a study of what is called 'comparative cost of production of wool and manufactures of wool in various countries,' and of this it says:

"In view, that the proper basis for tariff duties is found by comparing money costs of production, rests upon the opinion that money costs represent the relative degrees of sacrifice involved in turning out commodities of a given kind in various countries. For instance, it has assumed that if a given unit of a certain commodity can be produced in England at one dollar, or the equivalent of that sum, while in the United States the money expense of production at $1.25, it is necessary to have a tariff duty equal to the difference in these money expenses of production, or certainly in the difference in money expenses minus the allowances for variations in freight rates, in order to place the producers in the two countries upon an equal market footing. If this is not done, it will be possible for the producer in the country where money expenses are lowest to drive out of business the producer in the country where money expenses are highest. This assumption is based upon an erroneous view of international trade and finds no warrant whatever in economic reasoning."

"The Democratic report discusses this matter at great length, and points out that in every country there is a great range of difference in cost. "Besides these considerations," the report says, "it should be noted that in every country there is a great range or difference in cost of production. Scarcely any commodity can be said to have a uniform cost of production. There is more difference, as a rule, between different factories in the same country, than there is between the best and poorest factories in one country and those of corresponding grades in another. This has been amply illustrated by the work of the Tariff Board itself. In its report on pulp and paper, the board found little difference in money cost of production between the United States and Canada in the best mills, but it did find very great difference in expense of production between the best and poorest mills in the United States. This indication would have been, therefore, that while protection was not needed by the best factories in the United States against the Canadian, it was needed by the poorer factories in the United States against the better factories in this country, but not against those in Canada. Owing to this variation in cost of production within the same country, it is not possible to compare in absolute terms the productive power of one country with that of another."

"Even if it be granted, however, that an ascertainment of differences in money cost of production—whether highest, average, or lowest—would furnish a guide to the proper amount of tariff duty needed for protective purposes, the problem would remain whether money expenses of production could be ascertained in such a way as to render the method available. Experience, as well as theoretical considerations, show that this is not the case."

"The committee, averring that 'the report of the Tariff Board is not a tariff document,' says on that point: 'Probably the most striking feature of the report of the Tariff Board is that it contains little with reference to the tariff. It is primarily an analysis of the money expenses involved in the production and manufacture of wool.'

"Volume I of the report, containing the message of the President, letter of transmittal, summary of findings, and glossary, will undoubtedly be of use in explaining to the public the significance of the existing tariff and of the terms used in it. The volume probably contains little that was not already available to any member of Congress who chose to avail himself of the facilities at his command. It is essentially a clerical or library compilation from printed sources, and as such affords little other than its convenient form that is of service to the practical legislator."

"Volume IV, 'Wages and sufficiency of labor and machinery in the United States,' treats a subject which has already been extensively discussed by the United States Immigration Commission in reports on the woolen industry, and the Tariff Board undoubtedly drew upon this source. Whatever may be the intrinsic value of this volume and however serviceable it may be to students for reference, as a contribution to tariff discussion at the present time it has no value, because it does not contain, or profess to contain, comparative material on efficiency in foreign countries. It deals only with American conditions."

"Volume III contains a discussion of manufacturing costs of wool, yarn, and cloth, and ready-made clothing. About one-fourth of the volume is devoted to the study of ready-made clothing—a subject fully covered by the Immigration Commission in a report that has been available for some time, which was prepared at great expense."

"Apparently the chief reason for undertaking this inquiry was the opinion that it would thus be possible to demonstrate the relative insignificance of woolen goods as an item of common consumption. It may be concluded that, so far as the question of tariff rates on wool and woolen goods is concerned, that part of the board's report which relates to ready-made clothing is largely irrelevant."

"The committee, characterizing the Tariff Board in its investigations proceeded upon a theory that maintenance of existing tariff was necessary, and that throughout its investigation of costs of production, the Tariff Board apparently considers the maintenance of the existing tariff, or something approximately to it, fundamental and necessary. Thereby it adds very greatly to the cost stated as representative of the necessities of the American wool and woolen industry under existing conditions. This is an error which runs practically through the whole report and which needs to be considered very carefully in order to realize the far-reaching character of the modifications which it involves."

"The committee discusses at length the conditions relating to the production of raw wool in this country and abroad, and, after reviewing the three classes of wool as considered in the report and in the Payne-Aldrich bill, the committee says, in justification of its plan placing a revenue duty of 20 per cent on raw wool:

"Class III wool needs no protection, because it is scarcely produced at all in the United States."

"Class II wool needs no protection, because those of our wools which compare with it are produced at a very low cost of production."

"Class I wools need no protection as indicated by actual figures of sales. As shown by estimated cost of production the needed duty would not exceed 15 to 20 per cent of the requirements of production in the West that are indicated by the figures of the board; while in the Chicago region, the industry is partly at least, subject to general farming and can not be considered on the competitive footing."

"Every item in the wool schedule as created by the Tariff Board is analyzed at length by the committee, such as tops, rolls, yarns, cloths, carpets, etc., and the report submits that there is nothing to justify a change from the rates proposed in the Underwood bill."

Regarding clothing the report says: "There is no definite information in the board's data regarding the cost of manufacturing clothing, inasmuch as costs do not appear to have been ascertained abroad upon the same basis. About all that can be said, therefore, is that so far as the board's information goes, there is no reason for increasing the tariff on ready-made clothing above the rate of tariff imposed upon the cloth and material out of which such clothing is made."

QUIT CALOMEL

Thousands Are Turning From This Dangerous Drug.

A Safe Vegetable Substitute Is Olive Tablets for the Liver.

Dr. F. M. Edwards, a prominent physician of Portsmouth, Ohio, has discovered a new laxative and liver tonic in a combination of vegetable materials, mixed with olive oil, which is in effect almost exactly like the old and untrustworthy calomel, except that there are none of the bad after effects of calomel.

Dr. Edwards has long been a foe of calomel, though he recognized its value along with its dangers. His distrust of the uncertain drug eventually started him years ago towards experiments with the view of discovering a substitute, and he is today in possession of the long-sought-for combination, which is in the shape of a little sugar-coated, olive oil colored tablet.

The results of fifteen years' experience and practice are embodied in these marvelous little tablets. They are called Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, and their effect on the liver has been the means of relief to many of Dr. Edwards' regular patients as well as to thousands of others who have suffered and were afraid of calomel.

They are gentle in their action, yet always effective. They bring about that exuberance of spirit, that natural buoyancy which should be enjoyed by everyone, by toning up the liver and clearing the system of harmful impurities.

"Every little Olive Tablet has a movement all its own." 10c and 25c per box. The Olive Tablet Company, Columbus, Ohio. Dr. F. M. Edwards, President. (69)

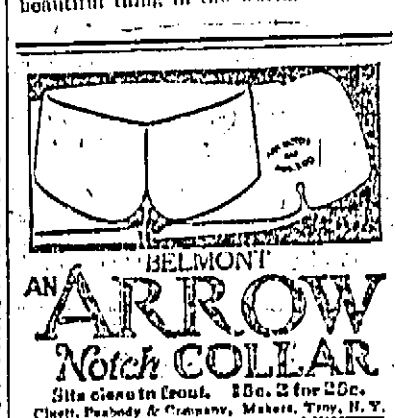

The rate of duty fixed in this bill upon ready-made clothing was 45 per cent, which was the highest rate given upon any article provided for in the bill except carpets.

On the Babylon cuneiform tablets are records of laws forbidding the use of wine in any form to persons engaged in public business, and asserting that no work done for the government by persons who used wine could be perfect. All builders of palaces, officers of armies, and managers of public works were required to abstain absolutely from all use of wine.

The Olfactory Test.
It may appear a whimsical theory—that the successful grocery store can be detected by its odors—and yet there is much truth in it, namely, that the grocery store which greets the nostrils with a certain glorious combination of odors of coffee, tea and spices is almost always a paying investment.—From the Ideal Grocer.

egotistic poet.
There is a story told of a French poet who inquired of a friend and flatterer what he thought of his last work. "I have arrived at the fifteenth canto," he replied with enthusiasm, "and think there is no more beautiful and harmonious in the language." "Pardon me, there is one thing," said the poet. "Ah, perhaps you mean Chateaubriand's 'Atala'." "Certainly not, I mean my sixteenth canto."

True Philosophy.
To sit still and contemplate—to remember the faces of women without desire, to be pleased with the great deeds of men without envy, to be everything and everywhere in sympathy, and yet content to remain where and what you are—is not this to know both wisdom and virtue, and to dwell with happiness?—Robert Louis Stevenson.

The Best Companion.
The most agreeable of all companions is a simple, frank man, without any high pretensions to an oppressive greatness; one who loves life, and understands the use of it; obliging alike, at all hours; above all, of a robust temper and steadfast as an anchor. For such a one we gladly exchange the greatest genius, the most brilliant wit, the profoundest thinker.—Lansing.

WOMAN'S PAGE

The Evening Chit-Chat

BY RUTH CAMERON

IF ANYONE who had a physical deformity knew that by a reasonable degree of self-control and self-government he could cause that blight to grow low, and perhaps finally disappear, so that he could be just like other people, wouldn't he make every effort to bring about that happy result?

How many people there are, marked out from their fellow beings by mental deformities as ugly and as evident as any physical malformations, who do not make the slightest effort to become normal, but even deliberately feed and aggravate their deformities!

And yet the physical deformity seldom seriously saddens more than one life, while the mental deformity almost always hinders the happiness, not only of the one who is afflicted with it, but of all who have to live with him.

I am thinking of a woman who has a hideously overgrown hump of caution. She was born with it, just as if she had been born with six fingers on one hand or any physical deformity. But, whereas, if she had the physical defect, I am sure she would willingly undergo the most painful operation, or give every cent she had to be rid of it, I don't think she has ever made the slightest attempt to reduce her mental deformity. And far from being such a comparatively unimportant thing as a superfluous finger, this malformation continually interferes with the happiness and ease and comfort, not only of its victim, but of her whole family. It has spoiled innumerable pleasure excursions by the obstacles and precautions with which it throws the path of every plan. It has kept her husband from many profitable business ventures. It has refused to allow the daughter to have her dearest wish of going away to college, "because I should be worried for four something with the matter with you all the time you were gone." It has denied her son half the normal pleasures of boyhood during his minority, and caused perpetual discord in the family as soon as he was old enough to defy this unjust and galling parental restraint. This woman knows that her point of view is abnormal, just as she would know that to have six fingers when other people have five, is not normal. And yet she feels no sensitiveness in regard to her mental deformity, no desire to hide it, no longing to be like other people. On the contrary, she apparently thinks the rest of the world is wrong, and spends her life in a peace-deceiving effort to force her standards on all with whom she comes in contact.

Now there is no doubt that if she had admitted in her youth that this over-developed hump of caution was a deformity, and had deliberately tried to conquer it, she could have at least gotten it under control. Instead she has never put up the slightest fight against it, and this hideous, happiness-spoiling mental deformity has increased steadily, every year of her life spoiling more happiness and making more trouble.

A great many of us—I almost almost say the majority—are born with some tendency for in excess of what it should be. It may be love of admiration, it may be sensuousness, it may be caution, it may be impulsiveness, but whatever it is, this inborn abnormality has within itself the possibility of spoiling infinite happiness—our own and others.

Now if parents would only look at such an excess as an actual deformity, to overcome which no sacrifice is too great, and would teach their children as soon as they are old enough, to feel the same, how much unhappiness the world might be saved.

HEART AND HOME TALKS

BY BARBARA BOYD

Fun For April First.

A LITTLE nonsense now and then is good for the liver, no matter which way you define the word. And as today is a day when nonsense has love and license to hold sway, even the most dignified can indulge in it without loss of prestige.

For April Fool parties, for friends who may drop in, or even for the home circle, here are some jolly ways to pass the evening.

Greet your guests as they arrive with Merry Christmas, Happy New Year, Many Happy Returns of Your Birthday, or any greeting that is not to the point.

Have cardboard placards over the faces of the clocks, with such apt remarks as "Did you ever get left?" "Sold," and other friendly comment. Arrange one or two seats if possible, so that they will gracefully give way when sat on. Do not fix them so that the sitter will get a bad fall, but let it seem as if his weight is too much for the seat to bear up under.

Early in the evening, pass some really good bonbons or fruit. As almost every one present will think these are April Fool candies, few will partake. Those who do will finally convince the others of the genuineness and deliciousness of the candy. Then when passing it the second time, if possible, substitute some real April Fool sweets, with cotton filling, or salt instead of sugar, or other equally delectable ingredients.

A point of search can be proposed with the apology that it is not exactly new, but let fun. Distribute bags, and exhibit some really handsome prizes, as awaiting the one who finds the most nuts. After a diligent search for five minutes or so, it will begin to dawn upon the seekers that the hidden nuts have never yet been hidden.

A game that produces a lot of fun is to distribute pencils and paper, and then let each guest take from a basket a slip of paper, upon which is the name of something of which he is to make a drawing. The papers are folded of course, so that no one can see the subject he is getting. State that a prize will be awarded for the best sketch. Upon the various slips of paper may be written such practical subjects as a groan, a sigh, the quiver of an eyelash, a mere whim, flight of fancy, a blood-curdling yell, an echo, and similar topics. A book of nonsense verse is a good prize for the best illustration.

If the home or table is decorated in honor of the day, the more grotesque the decorations, the better. A little bunch of Spring onion in a glass vase, cabbage carefully arranged in a jardiniere, are all appropriate. Feather dusters, whisk brooms, and such things may be placed about as though they were choice bric-a-brac.

When serving refreshments, everything should be as fantastic as possible. Sugar can be placed in the salt shakers, and in the sugar bowl, water in the coffee pot, milk in the syrup jug, and so on. Nutcrackers can be furnished in place of forks. Little yellow stuffed bowls can be used instead of cups. Pieces of any colored cotton stuffs can replace the napkins. And, of course, some April Fool refreshments should be sandwiched in among the genuine eatables. It is easy to make some April Fool cake, to sew up some apples and oranges with thread, or to fill an orange skin with cotton and fix it to look as if it hadn't been tampered with.

In fact, it takes very little ingenuity to play a lot of pranks that do no harm, but which create a lot of fun and cause such hearty laughter, that April the first is a real tonic in the calendar of days.

UP-TO-DATE HOUSEKEEPING.

Potato Ribbons, Dominoes, Prune Border and Other Culinary Oddities.

By Alice E. Whitaker.

The demand for novelties at public lectures on cookery often leads the demonstrator to make weird combinations. In salads an incongruous mixture of materials is sometimes presented that should never be eaten. In desserts and in garnishing fancy trifles are added that cost much time and really return nothing for it.

While these things entertain an audience it is doubtful if the women who listen ever attempt to make them at home, yet there are occasions when it pays to make something unusual perhaps a surprise and some of the following may meet such a want.

For potato ribbons peel potatoes as smoothly as possible then pare each round and round making the parings about an eighth of an inch thick. It requires some skill not to break the ribbons which must be kept in a napkin as the air turns the raw potato dark.

Try in deep hot fat in a frying basket and it is about impossible to drop them directly into the fat and take them out without breaking. Dust lightly with salt and serve hot.

For dominoes make a sponge cake as follows: Beat the yolks of three eggs, add one cup of powdered sugar and beat one minute then add one cup and one eighth rounding tablespoon of sifted pastry flour sifted twice with a level teaspoon of baking powder, the grated yellow rind and the juice of one-half lemon. Beat well fold in the whites of three eggs beaten stiff and dry. Bake this cake in a large pan so that the cake will be a thin sheet and when cool cut in oblongs like dominoes. Which cool cover with icing and when this is almost firm mark in halves. After the icing is hard dot it with chocolate icing to represent dominoes using a small paint brush. For the icing melt two squares of chocolate over hot water, add two tablespoons of milk and one tablespoon of water. When the chocolate is smooth add one cup of sugar and cook five minutes over hot water which should make the icing of the right consistency to spread.

Jellied prunes help out in the season of a famine in fresh fruits. Soak two and one-half level tablespoons of gelatin in one-half cup of cold water for half an hour. Wash one pound of prunes and soak several hours or over night in three cups of cold water then simmer in the same water until tender. Take the stones from the prunes and return them to the liquid which should measure three cups and if it does not add enough hot water to make up that amount. Bring to the boiling point, add the soaked gelatin, take at once from the fire and add one cup of sugar and the juice of one lemon. Set the pan in ice water and stir occasionally until the mixture begins to thicken then turn into a border mold and when firm turn onto a plate for serving. Fill the center with beaten and sweetened cream.

Raisin rissoles are a pastry dainty worth while to make sometimes. Mix one cup of seeded and chopped raisins, a tablespoon of finely chopped citron, the juice and grated yellow rind of one lemon, one beaten egg, one cup of sugar and a pinch of salt.

Roll a rich pie paste thinner than for pies and cut in small rounds. Put a teaspoon of the filling on each, moisten the edges, fold over and press together and brush the top of each with a little sugar dissolved in milk. Bake in a rather quick oven.

The KITCHEN CABINET

HOW BEAUTIFUL it would be to live in a world where every being we met unconsciously revealed in look and word and action, in the slightest gesture and movement, the divine intention of his creation. It is because little children do so, for the first brief months of their lives, that they charm us and captivate us. And it is in the simplicity of being without dissimulation, and from the depths of our souls, just what we want to be, that we become as little children, and with them enter into the kingdom of heaven. The world seems to force us to put on masks and veils to hide what is most real in us behind some conventional caricature of ourselves.

—Lucy Larcom.

WAYS THAT ARE NEW OF SERVING MEATS.

Take four to eight cutlets of lamb or mutton, trim off the superfluous fat, scrape the bone neatly and dust with nutmeg, celery salt, salt and pepper, and sprinkle with a little chopped onion, add a half pint of peas, an ounce of bacon cut small, a few new potatoes and a cup of stock. The potatoes must be parboiled before adding to the dish. Cook in a hot oven and serve the chops with a garnish of the potatoes and peas.

Cutlets a la Espagnole.—Take four to six cutlets prepared as above, dust them with salt and pepper. Have ready a cup of boiled rice, mix it with plenty of tomato catsup. Put the rice in a greased paper bag and place the cutlets on top; place in the oven and cook for thirty minutes in a moderately hot oven.

If one is using gas and has only a hot plate, paper bag cookery is not prohibitive, for with a little ingenuity one may arrange a fine oven. A deep skillet with a good tight cover, and a wire mesh cloth or any metal which will keep the bag from touching the bottom, may be used. Light the gas and put in the bag and roast as if it were an oven.

Get a pound of lean, chopped veal, less two ounces, which supply with two ounces of suet; season well and make into a cake; put into a buttered bag with slices of onion and tomato laid over the meat and a few pieces of well-seasoned butter. Bake on the trivet in the skillet.

DIET AND HEALTH HINTS

CEREALS SHOULD BE MASTICATED THOROUGHLY.

A Kansas farmer has produced bluebirds in 30 minutes, from standing grain to table. No objection could be raised to the increased speed of producing food if more time were allowed for it to prepare for digestion. Stale bread is always preferable to fresh, and cereals more than any other food should be thoroughly masticated so as to allow of the conversion of starch into sugar in the mouth, to a large extent. A meal consisting principally of cereals can not be eaten for the best results in less than an hour. There was formerly a law in London providing that no baker should sell bread within 24 hours after baking.

MISS ESTHER MORCY

BRINGS $100,000 DAMAGE SUIT AGAINST DEAN OF U. OF C.

Chicago, Ill.—The fight of a pretty young girl for the vindication of her honor and $100,000 damages is being watched locally as no other similar case in many years. The defendant is Dean Marion Talbot of the University of Chicago, whom it is alleged by the prosecution, injured the reputation of Esther Morcy to the extent of $100,000. Never has the courtroom of Judge Pomeroy seen so many college professors and attaches within its walls at one time as in this case for the University of Chicago Faculty are gladly fighting for the defendant, claiming that Dean Talbot acted outrageously in many ways. MRS. FREDERIC SCHÖFF

MOTHERS IN NATIONAL CONGRESS.

St. Louis, Mo.—The National Conference of Mothers now in session here, is attracting world wide attention because of the aid this body of determined women have given to the Child Welfare problem. Mrs. Frederic Schöff of Philadelphia as President and Mrs. W. B. Ferguson treasurer of the Congress are to be congratulated on the success of their work throughout the past year. One of the principal subjects to be discussed is the subject of "The Home."

Fascinating Forty-Five.

A typical, well-preserved, well-educated woman of the present day who confessed to forty, but whose heart and complexion are both as fresh as if at least ten years younger, has a keener zest for life than many a woman only half her age. Perfectly groomed, exquisitely polished in style and manner, she is a thing of beauty, in a very real sense of the word, and she knows her power.—Gentlewoman.

Spectacles.

I have told you of the Spaniard who always puts on his spectacles when about to eat cherries that they might look bigger and more tempting. In like manner I make the most of my enjoyments and push away my troubles in as small a compass as I can.—Robert Southey.

Marka Continental Division.

The most famous of all boundary marks in song and story is the "Pillar of Farwell," which marks the line between Russia and Siberia. It stands between Ekaterinburg in Russia and Tumen in Siberia, and is on the main road along which tens of thousands of exiles have passed. It is an obelisk of brick about sixteen feet in height. On the west side it bears in Russian characters the word "Europe," on the other "Asia."

Playing With Fishhaws.

Turks around the Bosphorus amuse themselves by playing pitch and catch with the hungry fishhaws. They throw high in the air a lump of raw meat, and the hawks pounce upon the meat before it strikes the ground, and make away with it to the little London Globe.

Suicides' Cemetery. "Friedhof Kolonia Grunewald" is the official name which has just been given to the cemetery in Schillingen, near Berlin, which is devoted to a special purpose. Here are buried, day by day, the ever-increasing number of Berliners who commit suicide, and who, from this cause, are not allowed to be buried in an ordinary cemetery.

Not in Haste. A clergyman in the north of Scotland, very homely in his address, chose for his text a passage in the psalms, "I said in my heart all men are liars." "Ay," premised the minister by way of introduction, "ye said it in your haste, David, did ye? Gin ye had been here ye might ha' said it at your leisure, my man."

GOLD DUST will sterilize your kitchen things and make them wholesome and sanitary Gold Dust does more than clean—it sterilizes and leaves your kitchen things sanitarily safe. The ordinary soap does not cleanse as thoroughly as it should—does not kill germs of decay which are bound to lurk in oft-used utensils.

Gold Dust does most of the cleaning without your assistance, and does it, too, in a quicker and more thorough manner than will soap or other cleansers.

Gold Dust makes pot and pan spick and span.

Gold Dust is sold in 5c size and large packages. The large package means greater economy.

MEN AND POLICIES DISCUSSED AT UNION

property ahead of humanity—they were democrats in name only and should seek a more fitting berth.

The Progressives.
As instances of the progressive tendencies in the old parties, the Progressives in the socialistic doctrine that were now sponsored by them. He did not know where the doctrine of the initiative, referendum, and recall originated; but he had first heard them from the lips of Eugene Debs. Many things and ideas at that time had been adopted since by the republican party in its efforts to retain a hold on the government. Not much difference was to be found between the insurgents and democrats. The handling of the breach between the two factions of the republican party was highly improbable, insurgents had too closely allied themselves with the democrats in congress for that. People were learning to discriminate between noise and action and were no longer deceived by the jangling of words and clanging of issues.

The Prohibitionists.
M. S. Kellogg pleaded the case of the prohibitionists. He declared that the only way to consider the liquor problem was from the partisan standpoint. Non-partisan methods of attack had proved a failure. Mr. Kellogg quoted statistics showing a great increase in the consumption of liquor per capita, and others showing the number of schools and students in Kansas, a prohibition state, and Wisconsin, a license state, the comparison being to the discredit of Wisconsin. He asserted that the abolition of the saloon would solve seventy-five per cent of the labor problem and ninety percent of the social evil. The money received through the tariff was insignificant as compared with the sums expended for liquor, this being nearly fifty times as great.

The Republican Candidates.
"Our government was so organized as to place a check on the emotional action of people, but not on the action of their judgment," said H. S. Loveloy, who made brief remarks on the republican candidates. Mr. Loveloy was a man of undoubted ability, whose bitterest enemies had once been his friends and who had destroyed one political machine only to replace it with one more efficient. Roosevelt was a man who made a strong popular appeal because of his strenuousness and his possession of the instincts of the press agent. He was a skillful politician, but disposed to trim his sails to every wind that blew. Taft was a failure as a press agent; but a good president and a very capable executive.

Democratic Candidates.
Brief definitions of the aspirants for the democratic presidential nominations were made by Gardner Loveloy. The democratic candidates stood, he said, in much the same position as the candidates for mayor in Janesville at the last primaries. One depended upon personal popularity, another upon his record, and the third on the promulgation of his principles. Wilson was popular with many of the younger men, but many distrusted the ability of a college professor to adequately fill the presidential chair. Underwood was strong in the South, had done good work in congress, and was the chief exponent of immediate tariff reduction, but his chances for the nomination were poor. Governor Harrison was not an orator. He ran principally on his record. He had good executive ability, had saved his state much money during his administration and shown marked business capacity. Champ Clark was popular in the west; had a long and noteworthy congressional career, and had been singularly free from attack within his party.

Politics and the People.
Among the principal sources of unrest, the laboring classes was the misuse of large amounts of wealth was the opinion expressed by Superintendent H. C. Duell. The unrest was not caused by the high cost of living. Low cost of living had been demonstrated to be even more disastrous to laboring men. They wanted to see as much wealth as possible utilized for productive purposes and were fired with the spirit of revolt by the gross extravagance of rich men and their children. Workmen had a right to demand that capital be justly administered. Much of the friction came from the management of great enterprises by the heirs of great fortunes who had no qualifications for the work except ownership. Right relations between capital and labor would be established when business withdrew from politics and all governmental action was taken upon information received from unbiased and entirely trustworthy sources.

At The Theatre

"ROSALIND AT REDGATE."
Morelita Nicholson and George Middleton have scored another remarkable success in "Rosalind at Redgate," in which once again we visit the locality of "The House of a Thousand Candles." Redgate is a small place near Glenora House on Lake Annandale, but it is an original story—not a sequel—as Harry Donovan, the hero of the new play is the only one who reappears. The brave, witty Irishman steps from second fiddle to first readily enough, and plays his own game as cheerfully as he did his friend's. The heroine is and often even the hard hearts of the critics to have the monopoly of her wit at breakfast, her epigrams at luncheon, her bonhomie at dinner, her society at all times except when the stage illustrates her dramatic genius—and then sit in front with contentment, listening to the public applauding her.

By a "set of curious circumstances," this man actually married a famous actress. "Yet, better still," said Miss Marlowe, "they are a particularly happy pair. He has his business; she has her profession. The two do not conflict. Come to think of it—there has been a goodly number of famous actresses who, at the altar, forsook the stage for the hearthstone. But when it comes to the point—hardly without exception—those women have made charming selves and devoted mothers. We of the stage know very well why these women have proved so capable and worthy—for the stage taught them patience, the art of self-culture, and above all—a tender woman sympathy."

Society Friends.

Mrs. Gosnell—How does it come that Mrs. Newright invited you to her party? I thought you were enemies. Mrs. Sharp—We are, but she thought I had nothing fit to wear and wanted to make me feel bad.

JUDGE J.D. ANDERSON

TRIAL JUDGE IN DYMMING CASE.

Judge J. D. Anderson will preside over the trials of the men indicted by the grand jury for alleged interstate shipment of high explosives. This is the outgrowth of the investigation following the Times disaster, and over forty labor leaders have been indicted by the grand jury.

Greatest Thing in Life.
Neither rich furniture, nor abundance of gold, nor a descent from an illustrious family, nor greatness of authority, nor eloquence and all the charms of speaking, can produce so great a serenity of life as a mind free from guilt, kept untainted, not only from actions, but purposes, that are wicked.—Plutarch.

Legal Compliment.

"Yes, a young Coke handled the case magnificently. He proved beyond the possibility of a doubt that the accused man wasn't guilty." "But he was guilty, of course."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Woman and the Farm.
In defining woman's relation to the life of the farm, one needs but little reflection to become aware of the all-pervading quality of that relationship. Just as the monarch of France, when asked to define the state, exclaimed, "The state; I am the state." So might the farmer's wife, when questioned as to the life of the farm, respond, "I am the life of the farm."

Poor City to Visit.

Friend—"And were you ever in Venice?" Mr. Hetchwick—"Yes. Slowest town I was ever in. The sewers were busted all the time we were there."—Puck.

Reaching THE HIGHEST WORLD'S ALTITUDES with LYMAN H. HOWE

(there are two of them) are charming girls, but the mystery in their lives makes winning them an exciting task. Through adventure after adventure the romance proceeds to an unusual, though happy climax. Nicholson's characters, always human and lovable have never been drawn to better advantage than in this play, which will be seen at Myers Theatre Thursday, March 28.

THE FELICITY OF OWNING AN ACTRESS.
Julia Marlowe, who with H. H. Southern will shortly appear here in Shakespearean repertoire, lately set forth amusingly in an interview, the incidents of the marriage of a layman to an actress. The gentleman in question, one day remarked to Miss Marlowe: "It must be solely beyond telling to own an actress. To sit humbly at her feet morning, noon, and night; to be the subject of all the smiles of beauty; to be permitted to occupy a front seat at all her private rehearsals of singing and dancing; to watch her bewitching countenance as she performs a feat of strength with the part of whose performance she will amuse the multitude."

A GOOD COUGH CURE

Do you remember the good old cough cure mother used to have? It didn't taste like cherry pie but it did cure a cough in a hurry. Mr. Menais, our Graduate Pharmacist and Chemist, makes our cough balsam by percolation direct from the roots, barks and balsams of wild cherry, bloodroot, Labella, white pine bark. Thereby obtaining the full medicinal virtue and strength of each drug, making it into a syrup we call Badger Cough Balsam. It is made after an old prescription which is today the best cure for any cough, bronchitis or lung trouble, healing and soothing to the irritated throat and lungs, it cures by assisting to expell the phlegm from the lungs, not by dosing the system with morphia and chloroform as do the modern patent cough remedies, deadening the nervous system, stupefying the lungs into retaining the mucus, thereby bringing on possible pneumonia and pleurisy. Badger Cough Balsam is a trustworthy expectorant, it loosens up and expells the phlegm. Get a bottle today for yourself or the children. It's safe to use, 25c.
